

Project Description

This project focuses on designing a digital cattle management companion that helps farmers and livestock owners make informed decisions. By combining health monitoring, disease tracking, feeding and milking schedules, cattle records, and marketplace features, the app supports timely care, proper nutrition, and efficient herd management